

THE GLOBE AND MAIL REPORT ON BUSINESS
THE MAGAZINE FOR LEADERS

Report on Business (ROB) magazine is an extension of The Globe and Mail's Report on Business coverage, building on ROB's daily coverage with longform editorial features and in-depth analysis.

Defining the future of business for the leaders of today and tomorrow

Media Kit 2025

Our journalism is innovative, bold and shapes the future of business, like our audience

We don't just report on business, we help shape it.

“For 40 years, Report on Business has been the magazine for Canada’s decision makers – not just the leaders already at the top of this country’s largest corporations, but also the innovators and disrupters striving to build the giants of tomorrow. We’re living through an era of economic, technological and cultural upheaval. With unprecedented access and analysis from reporters at The Globe and Mail and beyond, consider us your insider’s guide to navigating the new realities of doing business in a rapidly changing world.

I first met Linda Hasenzon in 2000. I'd just moved from London to New York, and I was leaving after having my first child, and I was struggling to stay on top of work and home life. Hasenzon was CEO of Linamar, the manufacturer card deck founded in 1966, and she had a head for business. I asked her, "Oh, to talk about her mission to grow the company to $50 billion in revenue, even as it struggled amid the aftershocks of the 2001 financial crisis?" She said, "I was amazed by Hasenzon's breezy ability to manage a million and one details on a daily basis, from the shop floor to the boardroom, while having four kids at home, then age 10, 12, 14, and 16."

I'll never forget her response when I asked how she managed it all (which, I admit, wasn't a question I regularly asked). She said, "I have a bigger stressor at home than I do here. It's my daughter, Hailey. She has the ability to have people do the things at home that I don't want to do, like the shopping and the cooking and the cleaning and the laundry. So she's the one that when I'm at home, all I have to do is be with my kids. In some ways, I think I have
