Nitrogen's role in food systems

How research and collaboration improve health, environmental and economic outcomes

In an era of global uncertainty, disruptions to agriculture and supply chains continue to challenge access to safe, nutritious food. This special feature will highlight how Canadian farmers and food producers are responding to these pressures — leveraging innovation, collaboration, and sustainable practices to strengthen food systems and support food security at home and around the world.

- Proposed topic highlights:
- Crisis Response & Resilience: Strengthening food systems to withstand disruption and support vulnerable populations.
  - Supporting Food Production: Empowering farmers and producers to maintain stable, reliable food output.
  - Technology & Innovation: Applying advanced tools and knowledge to improve yields and efficiency.
  - Collaboration Across Food Systems: Partnering across sectors to enhance sustainability and food availability.
  - Local Food Resilience: Strengthening domestic and regional supply networks to reduce reliance on global imports.
